

Dear CANES Community,

Tuesday, September 9th, 2025

We are excited to share some wonderful news from within our organization.

Please join us in congratulating Leah Di Domenico on her promotion to Acting Director of People and Culture, effective today.

Since joining us in 2021, Leah has been an invaluable member of our team—first as our People and Culture Specialist, and later as Manager of People and Culture—consistently demonstrating a deep commitment to our mission and an insightful understanding of what makes our workplace culture thrive. In her previous roles over the years, Leah led numerous initiatives that have strengthened our team, enhanced employee wellbeing, and supported a more inclusive and collaborative workplace.

Leah Di Domenico

I'm incredibly honoured to step into the role of Acting Director of People and Culture. It's been a privilege to grow alongside such a passionate and dedicated team. Amongst other meaningful initiatives, I look forward to advancing our learning culture through enriched training opportunities, deepening our commitment to workplace wellness and engagement, and leading thoughtful planning and strategy to support our evolving organizational needs. I am excited to continue contributing to a workplace where everyone feels valued, supported and inspired to contribute meaningfully to our shared mission.

As Acting Director of People and Culture, Leah will oversee all aspects of our people strategy, including employee engagement, learning and development, talent acquisition, and fostering a safe, respectful, and empowering work environment. This role is critical to supporting our staff—who are at the heart of our work delivering compassionate, quality care to the community.

We are confident that under Leah's leadership, we will continue to grow as a values-driven organization where people feel supported, inspired, and proud to make a difference to our clients, fellow employees and our community.

Please take a moment to congratulate Leah on this well-deserved promotion when you see her!

Warm regards,

James Meloche,
Chief Executive Officer
CANES Community Care

